It's obvious that ideas alone won't make innovation happen, as you need to be able to build a systematic process for managing those ideas. The point of ideation isn't just about generating tons of them but about paying attention to the quality of those as well. We agree that it can sometimes be difficult to come up with more of those high-quality ideas. It's not unusual to get stuck in our old habits and routines when we're supposed to be creating something new. Parvathi, Academic Director, Principal, VET FGC, Mrs. Roopashree and Mrs. Rammya, P. G. Co- Ordinator. The main objective of the orientation was briefed by Dr. R. Parvathi, and enlightened the students on aptitude and reasoning test skills of the student and how it is important to attend the interview, An aptitude test is a structured assessment that aims to evaluate job candidates' or even existing employees' talent and/or skill in completing certain tasks without any prior knowledge or training. There are lots of different types of aptitude test which can assess a series of core skills such as technical knowledge and comprehension.

An increasing number of employers are now using aptitude tests as a way to assess the specific capabilities of potential employees. They are often used as a method of screening to identify high calibre candidates. The content of an aptitude test, particularly in an industry such as innovation, needs careful thought and consideration. They are used to assess candidates in terms of their skills, knowledge, ability and personality. Aptitude tests are an accurate way of predicting the potential contribution of a candidate and the likelihood of them achieving success within the organization. It can sometimes be difficult from an interview alone to assess the candidate's skills, so an aptitude test provides the employer with a greater insight into their capabilities and gave a call to the students to equip themselves under the guidance of the 'Career and Placement Cell'. Further the session was led by resource person and briefed about Placement training plays a major role in shaping up the career goals of students. It is the dream of every engineering student to get placed in a top organization visiting their campus for recruitment. Keeping this key aspect into consideration, it is realized that training is important for engineering students to enhance their employability skills and achieve good placement in various Industries. At present, the competition for employment is increasing every day and placement has become a challenging task.

Training of students and equipping them with life skills has become an important responsibility of the institution. Along with technical expertise, development of a holistic personality is also necessary. To meet out these requirements, a fully-fledged training cell is operating in our college to enhance the capabilities of engineering graduates on par with the industry standards. The prime objective of the Training programs organised by the college to look for 100% employment for all students, recognize the core competencies of the students, to train the students to meet the expectations of the industry through our Career Development Programmes, build confidence in students and develop right attitude in them and enhance their communication skills. TEACHER’S DAY CELEBRATION

In India, it is marked on the birthday of Dr Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan who was the first Vice President of India (1952–1962) and also a highly-respected teacher, philosopher and prolific statesman. Dr Radhakrishnan went on to become the second President of India (1962-1967) and was of the opinion that “teachers should be the best minds in the country.”

23rd GRADUATION DAY

Ceremonies for graduating students date from the first universities in Europe in the twelfth century. At that time Latin was the language of scholarship. A university was a guild of masters (such as MAs) with license to teach. "Degree" and "graduate" come from gradus, meaning "step". The first step was admission to a bachelor's degree. The second step was the master's step, giving the graduate admission to the universities and license to teach. Typical dress for graduation is gown and hood, or hats adapted from the daily dress of university staff in the Middle Ages, which was in turn based on the attire worn by medieval clergy.

Graduation day is always a day of rejoicing as it signifies the culmination of many years of hard work in the relentless pursuit of knowledge.

Distribution of deworming medication a BBMP initiative

The BBMP officials J.P. Nagar ward visited the college premises and distributed “ALBENDAZOLE Tablets” 400mg, for all college students to promote deworming awareness in adults as much awareness is required regarding deworming. As worms can easily enter our body because of seemingly safe but unhygienic habits such as not washing hands before eating food, drinking dirty water or untreated milk, not washing vegetables before cooking, taking a swim in public swimming pool with untreated water and even getting lick from the pet, the worms enter our body and lays eggs in our intestine. This intestinal worm can lead to abdominal pain, diarrhea, vomiting, bloating and allergic reaction in both adults and children. This affects their performance and growth.

In the interest of public, BBMP, J.P. Nagar ward distributed free of cost the deworming tablets on 27/11/2021 to all degree students of all streams.

The health committee head Mrs. Shilpa.R and other committee members distributed the tablets with brief awareness about the initiative taken by the BBMP and about the medication to the students. EQUAL OPPORTUNITY CELL - ONE DAY WORKSHOP ON HUMAN TRAFFICKING 18.12.2021

One day workshop was organized by equal opportunity cell to create awareness amongst the students regarding human trafficking, since students are also one of the prime victims of human trafficking session was conducting to shed the lime light on.

The session began with welcome speech by the Head of the Equal Opportunity Cell Mrs. Meera Balaram Asst. professor, Commerce and Management. We formally welcomed the resource person Mrs. K. M. Rohini, Advocate in High Court Bangalore and Dr R Parvathi Principal and Academic Director and B. Rammya IQAC Co-ordinator. Since the workshop was in association with Inner wheel club, President of Inner wheel club Kalpana Brama Desham and Mrs Vani sharma member of Inner wheel club was also welcomed.

Resource person began the session by giving introduction on Human trafficking and how people will turn out to be victims of the same.

She highlighted factors influencing human trafficking like Poverty, Lack of employment opportunities, Religious/ Traditional Prostitution, Child Marriage, False promises for job/marriage, Migration, Sex tourism, Internet Pornography, Dreams of Better future.

Not only women and children but also men are subject to human trafficking. In India, a large number of people are trafficked not only for sex trade but also for other various kinds of servitude.

Human trafficking is very common in countries like Southeast Asia, eastern Europe, and sub-Saharan Africa—developing countries where recruiters seek migrants through various mediums such as the Internet, employment agencies, the media, and local contacts. Middlemen who recruit from within the origin country commonly are from the same race and cultural background of those migrating and act as agents. Human traffickers often create transnational demands for transporting migrants who are driven voluntarily by unfavourable living conditions to seek better life and future through the services of a smuggler. Migrants view the services of a smuggler as an opportunity to move from impoverished conditions in their home countries to more stable, developed environments. But it is very difficult for the victims to obtain legitimate travel documents because of their lack of knowledge, education exposure and financial constraints and they voluntarily become the pray for the smugglers and the smugglers supply migrants with fraudulent passports or visas and advise them to avoid detection by border-control agents. Although victims often leave their destination country voluntarily, the majority are unaware that they are being recruited for a trafficking scheme. Some may be kidnapped or coerced, but majority it is by voluntary by the victims who are bribed by false job opportunities, passports, or visas. Transporters involved in trafficking victims from the origin country are compensated only after they have taken migrants to the responsible party in the destination country. Immigration documents, whether legitimate or fraudulent, are seized by the traffickers when once they enter the destination country and after this, victims are often subjected to physical and sexual abuse, and many are forced into labour or the sex trade in a very inhuman, un-hygienic conditions in order to pay off their migratory debts.

The cause of human trafficking stems from adverse circumstances in origin countries, including religious persecution, political dissension, lack of employment opportunities, poverty, wars, and natural disasters. Another causal factor is globalization, which has catapulted developing countries into the world's market, increasing the standard of living and contributing to the overall growth of the global economy. Unfortunately, globalization is a double-edged sword in that it has shaped the world's market for the transportation of illegal migrants, affording criminal organizations the ability to expand their networks and create transnational routes that facilitate the transporting of migrants. The most prevalent form of human trafficking that results in servitude is the recruitment and transport of people into the international sex industry. Sex slavery involves males and females, both adults and children, and constitutes an major percentage in all trafficking activities. It consists of different types of servitude, including forced prostitution, pornography, and sex-related occupations such as nude dancing and modelling. Forced prostitution is a very old form of enslavement, and recruitment into this lifestyle is often a booming business. Victims of sexual slavery are often manipulated into believing that they are being relocated to work in legitimate forms of employment. Those who enter the sex industry as prostitutes are exposed to inhumane and potentially fatal conditions, and infectious terminal disease and shunted by the Society. Additionally, some countries, including India, Nepal, and Ghana, and other developing and third world countries have a form of human trafficking known as ritual (religion-based) slavery, in which young girls are provided as sexual slaves to atone for the sins of family members. Young girls are also used as sex workers in Spa and Massage Parlours, the hidden form of Prostitution.

Forced labour as likely been around since shortly after the dawn of humankind, though there are a number of different forms of modern involuntary servitude that can go easily unnoticed by the general public. Debt bondage, is the enslavement of people for unpaid debts and is one of the most common forms of contemporary forced labour. Similarly, contract slavery uses false or deceptive contracts to justify or explain forced slavery.

Children are often sold or sent to areas with the promise of a better life but instead encounter various forms of exploitation. Domestic servitude places “extra children” (children from excessively large families) into domestic service, often for extended periods of time. Other trafficked children are often forced to work in small-scale cottage industries, manufacturing operations, and the entertainment and sex industry. They are frequently required to work for excessive periods of time, under extremely hazardous working conditions, and for little or no wages. They are also used for prostitution, theft, begging, or the drug trade.

At the end session was made interactive and students were given an opportunity to clear their doubts, amongst them one student came out with the question as on how students can be victims of human trafficking. The resource person in turn gave the answer by stating drug peddling would be the major source for being victim.

The session ended by vote of thanks by Mrs.Febina K S Asst professor BCA Department.

REPORT ON PSYCHOLOGY OF STUDENTS TOWARDS ACADEMIC SATISFACTION AND PROGRESSION

VET FGC has organized a session 'Psychology of Students towards Academic Satisfaction and Progression', under IQAC, Counseling and Grievance Cell on 28.01.2022 at 10.30 on virtual platform Microsoft Teams for UG students.

The session was to seek help, uncover the academic issues and unleash the potential of students by strengthening the mindset of decision making in students. Dr. R Parvathi, Principal and Academic Director, VET FGC welcomed the Resource Person Dr. V Vani Shridhar Certified Counselor. She expressed her gratitude towards the President of VET Institutions Sri B R Viswanath setty and the secretary of VET Institutions Dr. Manandi N Suresh for their consistent support for any developmental activities organised for the students.

The event further moderated by Mr. Chintan raj M Vernekar, Assistant Professor, Department of commerce.

Mr. chintan raj Introduced the Resource person of the event Dr. V Vani shridhar. Dr. V Vani shridhar has Phd in psychology of adolescent students, M.sc (Zoology), MA in English and B.ed. She has 17 years of working experience in education field 14 years worked as principal for ICSE and state board schools and PU colleges in reputed institutions.

With PPT the resource person started presentation motivating students by telling BELIEVE IN YOU she gave many examples currently which is happening and students anger, frustration and loss of confident due to small things and many suggestions to overcome the fear of losing and not believing in self-potential. Self-ability and its reactions in life and also the reasons like inferiority complex, self-demotivation, fixed mind set destructive thinking, lack of focus and fear etc.

She continued with goal setting - Setting goals helps trigger new behaviors, helps guides your focus and helps you sustain that momentum in life. Goals also help align your focus and promote a sense of self-mastery. In the end, you can't manage what you don't measure and you can't improve upon something that you don't properly manage. Goals help students to focus upon the journey to a collection of set achievements, meaning they allocate their resources and time more efficiently and can access motivation during times when they may feel like giving up.

From an academic perspective, goals improve performance by ensuring Cadets remain accountable for their own failures and successes, propelling themselves forward through a selection of small achievements designed to break down a larger purpose. What's more, setting and achieving goals translates to feelings of success and confidence for students, which in turn leads to greater confidence and productivity.

A positive attitude lets you relax, remember, focus and absorb information as you learn. You're ready to welcome new experiences and recognize many different kinds of learning opportunities. And when you can see opportunities, hope increases. Positivity makes it easier to achieve your goals. That's because when you're in a positive frame of mind, you can make better decisions. You can look ahead and plot a course, rather than just reacting to the setbacks you encounter. You don't get stuck with negative self-talk.

At last she emphasized on self-assessment – self assessment can increase the interest and motivation level for the subjects leading to enhanced learning and better academic performance, helping in development of critical skills for analysis of their own work. She also clarified few doubts that students asked her and gave suggestions for self-motivation and self-reliance to students which help students to be motivated.

Session ended by vote of thanks by Mr. Chintan Raj M Vernekar department of commerce.

Neuroscience is the study of the nervous system from a scientific standpoint to study the basic and emergent features of neurons, glia, and neural circuits, it is a multidisciplinary discipline that incorporates physiology, anatomy, molecular biology, developmental biology, cytology, computer science, and mathematical modelling. I Q A Cell, V E T First Grade College organized on 29.01.2022 ONE DAY WORKSHOP in association with Inner wheel club of Bangalore, J.P. Nagar with title “What it means to be a Male? Neuroscience of Masculinity” at 10.30 am. The One Day Workshop began with welcome speech by Ms. Rammya. B, Coordinator IQAC, and Dr. B. N. Sathya Bhama, Placement Officer, VET First Grade College who introduced the Dr. Mayur Vijaykumar Kaku, resource speaker of the day followed by Dr. R. Parvathi, Academic Director & Principal’s speech.

Dr. Mayur Kaku began the discussion by defining the terms Male and asked all the students the meaning of Masculinity. Students answered the common attributes through chat box. He then explained basic attributed required by a male to live normal life.

He taught the fundamental aspects of masculine and feminine attributes to the boys and men who are typically bullied or embarrassed. Few to mention attributes of masculine are differentiating, think individual, external focused, part focused, results oriented, competitive, hierarchical structure, action, doing, focus on intent, logic, independent, urgent, analysis, think through head, speaking, directing, assertive, project, conscious, structured, linear, follow cause and effect, linear analysis, bottom line oriented and others are commonly seen.

He asked the students to identify a picture of film actor from Hollywood with women, where he was actually looked very intimately standing with women but he kept his distance. He also gave a few instances of excellent masculinity from the Ramayana where we had Rama indicating good deeded one and Ravana indicating wrong deeded one, by asking students to identify the situation in the picture where Ravana kidnapping Sita in the flying chariot, when Jatayu try to stop the kidnaping to the present-day Keanu Reeves, who is always respect women in his actions.

He talked on how men need to have integrity, dignity, and the ability to have true intimacy, as well as dos and don'ts to follow in their everyday lives, and how they might use emotional literacy to discover the zones of regulation. Few to mention are staying in present moment, avoid converting shame to aggression, allow emotional shaking or analysis, develop real power and real responsibility, identify negative emotions like anger, jealousy, shame, fear, promote compassion, tenderness and deal with emotions and sex is for progeny, not for fun as biggest man-made disaster is pornography.

ILLUMINATING GIRLS- a torch on expression

Feminism is not about making women strong; women are already strong. Its about changing the way the world perceives that strength. With this belief, VET FGC, under COUNSELLING CELL, has organized a webinar, "ILLUMINATING GIRLS- a torch on expression", virtually via M.S. Teams on 29.01.2022 at 10.30 am, to address only girls.

Dr. R. Parvathi, Principal, Academic Director was welcomed by Mrs. Mamatha Subraya, the Head of Counselling Cell. Dr. R. Parvathi, a woman with voice, by definition, a strong motivator, captain being the resource person, addressed the girls with a friendly note and made the platform comfortable for interaction. The task of illuminating girls on their behaviour, expression, goal setting, physical and mental stability were the sensitive areas to ponder upon. In a delicate way, she approached the topic one by one establishing confidence in them.

She threw light on the role played by a woman to manage her husband's family along with her mother's family. Women need to struggle to attain a work-life balance, besides doing their respective jobs, also have the role of taking care of her family and children. There is also the issue of inequality in terms of payment and corporate politics that women face in their jobs based not on their incompetence but solely based on their gender. Regardless of how difficult getting on top of the corporate ladder is, the female staff is striving to make their place known in modern society. She quoted some instances where women thrive to establish their identity in modern society.

The speaker, Dr. R. Parvathi, further narrated several incidences of women, who set their goals, dreamt big and found satisfaction in their lives. All girls were asked to set their goals, so that they could not divert themselves from the set track. Maturity to understand and assess the situations would always be backed up by experience. At the early stages of life if one sets the role model, listens to the advices of experienced people, would benefit her to visualise the future with clarity.

The participants, utilised the given liberty to interact closely. Few girls used this platform to discuss their specific personal issues which they could not discuss with their family, friends in public and clarified their doubts. They were grateful to the speaker as well as the Counselling Cell for the session.

The session carried on with PPT Presentation by Kavya.S.K, III Sem BCA on "STOP VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN". She threw light on harassment at workplace, difference between good touch and bad touch, acid attack on Laxmi Agarwal and so on.

Further, Chinni Likhitha, V Sem BCA, presented on "WOMAN IS GOD'S BEST CREATION, YET THE WORST SUFFERER". Her presentation covered the fundamental concepts like, the meaning of freedom, how to make women feel safe?, word for college girls, working in safe zone, how to save oneself from being victim and so on. Rather than fantasy world, she introduced the real world to the girls.

Deepika and Chandana from V Sem BCOM, presented on “ FAMILY INVOLVEMENT “. They focused on education for girls, graphical representation of education for girl child, capability of girl child to do any work, new phase of life- marriage, woman- a super power and so on.

These mesmerising presentations of students were much appealing and reachable. Due to time constrain, the session ended at 12.30. The enthusiastic participants were assured with one more discussion platform like the same. Mrs. Mamatha Subraya proposed vote of thanks.

INDIAN STOCK MARKET – An Introduction

VET FGC has organized a session ‘Indian stock market - an Introduction’, under IQAC cell on 05.02.2022 at 10.30 am virtual platform Microsoft Teams for UG students.

The session was to help students to get introduced to stock market and learn about trading and get awareness about shares, stocks, bonds and commodities. The session began with welcome to Resource Person and Principal and Academic Director Dr. R Parvathi and speaker Mr. K G Krupal who is renowned columnist and stock market specialist. Principal expressed her gratitude towards the President of VET Institutions Sri B R Viswanath setty and the secretary of VET Institutions Dr. Manandi N Suresh for their consistent support for any developmental activities organised for the students.

The event further moderated by Mr. Chintan raj M Vernekar, Assistant Professor, Department of commerce. Mr. Chintan raj introduced the Resource person of the event Mr. K G Krupal.

Resource person started with session with help of PPT he introduced about stock market and gave the importance of stocks in current market.

Stock market is a place where equity shares of companies are bought and sold by the participants (buyers and sellers of stocks). The participants can be investors and traders who seek profits over the short time or the long run. The investors mainly have a long-term horizon and benefit from capital appreciation over time. Traders, however, look for quick profits by focusing on the small price changes in equity shares which mostly last for a few minutes or the whole trading session.

In India, the BSE and NSE are the major platforms where most of the stock trading happens. Here, the buyers and sellers place orders through brokers who offer online trading services. The settlement cycle follows the T+2 formats. In simple terms, you have two days for the trade cycle to be completed from initiation to final settlement.

A mutual fund is an investment vehicle where many investors pool their money to earn returns on their capital over a period. This corpus of funds is managed by an investment professional known as a fund manager or portfolio manager. It is his/her job to invest the corpus in different securities such as bonds, stocks, gold and other assets and seek to provide potential returns. The gains (or losses) on the investment are shared collectively by the investors in proportion to their contribution to the fund.

Performing a research before making an investment is a must. It is only after a thorough research that you can make some assumptions into the value and future performance of an investment. Even if you are following stock trading tips, it ideal to do some research, just to ensure that you are making an investment that's expected to get you maximum returns. Resource person clarified doubts asked by students. Session concluded with vote of thanks by Chintan raj asst. Professor dept of commerce.

First question: Why Model English medium public school introduced only for Hobali Level Why can't increase more Model schools based on population. This question was asked by the opposite party to the ruling party.

Answer by B. C Nagesh: It is an initial stage to introduce one Model school for one Hobali. Once we start we will see consequences and then we will increase the number of schools. Following this ruling party member P. Ragupathi Butt raised a question about Hijab.

As the court has given its verdict that Hijab is not essential for entering into educational institutions on this background two requests he proposed first one was allow students to write the exam those who have not taken the practical and other exams before court verdict. Second request was not to disturb the peace around college surroundings and create violence. Supporting this other member Jagadeesh shettar said Court decision must be obeyed if anyone violates we will take action on them. Opposite member Siddarammai reacted and said peaceful protest is their right they can protest if your government does not stop.

NATIONAL WEBINAR on Empowerment through Wealth Creation.

VET First Grade College organised One Day National Webinar in Association with Association with Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) on “Empowerment through Wealth Creation”. This National webinar was held on 5th May 2022 using virtual platform. 986 participants registered for the same.

The webinar was hosted by Ms Shruti Khemshetty Assistant professor Department of Management, next invocation song by M.com Students, Welcome speech was delivered by Ms Rammya. B IQAC Coordinator further to this the webinar was inaugurated by Dr. R Parvathi Principal and Academic director. Further to this a brief introduction was given by Ms Shruti k of the resources person Shri Surya kant Sharma for the webinar

Shri Surya Kant Sharma, Senior Consultant AMFI, who was keynote speaker in the webinar at the outset touched upon the importance of financial security of individuals. He emphasized that an investor should first think and ensure adequate life insurance, reasonable health insurance (umbrella insurance cover or floater cover – not less than 25 lakhs for metro city and other places – 15 lakhs) cover and an emergency fund of an amount Rs 500000 before embarking upon the journey of wealth creation through sustained investments which is most essential for prosperity. He then made a vehement plea for regular savings and increase of savings every year minimum by 10%. He then dealt in detail on the need for wealth creation for prosperity and emphasised that investors should not be money accumulator but wealth creator which only would make them comfortable with regard to their money needs for their milestones in life.

He then advised participants that they should look at real return and not on notional return as inflation and tax liability substantially takes away major portion of notional return. He cautioned participants that most of the investments except in governmental shames have risk but risk can be managed by simple formula – Think, understand and invest. The first aspect on Think about what is my risk appetite which can be taken on basis of family income ,social status and age factor further he divide the age group like 25 – 40yrs - which has to save maximum and put it in investment taking calculated risk 40 – 55yrs – take care of liquidity.... Beyond 55yrs – compromise on return but not compromise on the safety of funds. The second aspect was on time horizon of investment He also emphasized the need to have financial planning of their families in place for focused investment and also the need for practicing rule of compounding in investments for higher return in long run. He then shared basic information on various investment avenues available in the market viz. Government/RBI bonds, Corporate bonds, Government schemes (Post office schemes, PPF (deposit before 5th of every month), NPS, NSC KVP, NSS, RBI retail Central. Securities market, RBI BONDS, Bharath Bonds 1 and Bharath Bond 2 etc. Real estate and gold

All these avenues are different and have distinct features and investors should invest their hard earned money according to his/her risk appetite and time horizon of investment. Shri Sharma cautioned general investor not to enter into securities market directly as there are inherent risks in the market and unless the investor has sound knowledge of market, sectors, economy, international economy etc. he should desist from entering into the market directly. Instead, mutual funds are the best option available for general investor wherein he/she can invest a minimum amount of Rs.500/- through Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) and build a good corpus over a period of time. He also mentioned that in mutual funds there are number of schemes as per risk appetite and time horizon of investors. There is a wide spectrum of mutual funds schemes ranging from equity funds to debt funds to exchange traded funds which can be chosen by an investor as per his risk appetite and investment horizon.

At the end, he emphatically cautioned participants not to invest their hard earned money on the advice of others including agents and never in unregulated fund mobilisation schemes – Ponzi scheme, chit funds and committees etc. - which give assurance for higher and quick return at the beginning but ultimately vanish with the hard earned money of investors. Not so affluent class of investors are more susceptible to such allurements and we all have a social responsibility to make them aware about the menace of such schemes and impress upon them not to invest their money in such schemes. He also informed that as per a survey, investors have lost more than ten lakh crores of rupees in such unregulated fund mobilisation schemes.

After the sessions, a question answer session was made open for the participants and participants asked lot of questions on personal finance which were satisfactorily answered by the experts.

At the end of the program Ms Preethi Inampudi gave vote of thanks.
